Good afternoon families!

Today the children spent their day indoors where it was nice and cool. After eating some delicious fruit, the children settled on the mat to read 'The Garden' the children found insects hidden beneath the flaps! Brendon found a bubble bee hidden behind the petal flaps, after we had read the story we sang the 'bumble bee' song. The children held their hand out pretending to hold a bumble bee and followed along as I sang. The children are developing their communication skills as they sing and name the insects in the story.

-Insect ice play-

Today we got to play with insect-ice blocks! There was a whole range of insects frozen last night for us to try and uncover with some warm water today. Will thought the ice block was for eating and tried to get the insect inside! Soren and Max had a lot of fun breaking the animals out of the ice together. Samuel really enjoyed pouring the warm water on the ice, watching as it melted. In this activity the children are using their sense of touch as they feel the really cold ice.

-Rock stacking-

Just before we sat down for lunch the children sat at the table to do a stacking activity! Instead of using blocks, the children used rocks as a natural source. The children used their hand –eye coordination to stack the stones on top of one another. Because the rocks were a round shape it was a little challenging, the elephants didn't give up too easily. “1, 2, 3” they counted watching them balance before knocking them over and starting again.
